Ashton is a paralegal for the firm's Estate and Trust practice group. As a previous bank officer, she assisted with fiduciaries and handled transactions associated with estate planning and administration. She has been in administrative support roles in both estate planning and administration. Ashton is in Legal Studies and enjoys photography, design, history, music, and a good cup of iced cold brew coffee.

"I take pride in exhibiting empathy and providing expertise while navigating clients through the estate administration process."
