

Paley Rothman Welcomes Estate Planning Associate Amanda McGrath

Paley Rothman is pleased to announce that Amanda McGrath has joined its Estate Planning and Estate & Trust Administration practice groups as an Associate.

Amanda found an affinity in trusts and estates discipline early in her legal career when she worked for a DC nonprofit organization making house calls to assist elderly residents with their estate planning needs. The experience of working with vulnerable clients in such a personal setting left a lasting impact on Amanda and drives her to provide compassionate support, in addition to sound legal advice, to her clients during times of need. Amanda's practice is focused on guiding individuals and families through the various components of lifetime wealth planning and post-mortem administration matters.
