

Roy Niedermayer Appointed Regional Director of Yale Clubs in Washington, D.C.

Roy Niedermayer, who is a member of the firm's Litigation and Appellate practice groups, has been appointed Regional Director of Yale Clubs in Washington, D.C. and several surrounding states by the Association of Yale Alumni.

He will assist in bringing a knowledge of the university to potential students, promote a closer liaison between Yale and its students & graduates and support the school's International Day of Service (May 16, 2009), encouraging alums across the country and around the world to perform public service projects.