

Future Trends in Civil Mediation

If you are a sophisticated user of mediation, take comfort in knowing your voice has been heard - and your input is going to reshape mediation for the better.

For too long, dialogue about best practices were exclusively between mediators. Those days are gone. When the American Bar Association's Section of Dispute Resolution launched the Task Force on Improving the Quality of Mediation, its members sought the views of attorneys and parties who were repeat players in commercial cases.

...

DOWNLOAD FULL ARTICLE >